Linden named vice president of ICPC

Grace Linden, curator of history at the Sioux City Public Museum, recently was elected vice president of the Iowa Conservation and Preservation Consortium (ICPC). Linden joined the board of directors of ICPC in 2003.

Founded in 1992, ICPC is a membership organization seeking to initiate, encourage, and enhance preservation and conservation activities by providing basic preservation education and training. ICPC members include staff and volunteers from museums, libraries, state government, individual collectors, clerks of court, genealogists and other interested parties.

Linden has a BA degree in history from the University of South Dakota and an MA degree in museum studies from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. She joined the staff of the Sioux City Public Museum in 1995.
